New Training Operatory Showcases Latest KODAK Dental Systems For Chartless Workflow

ATLANTA, July 20 — A fully functional dental operatory installed at the Atlanta headquarters of PracticeWorks Systems, LLC, enables employees, customers and partners to gain advanced training on the latest digital solutions for achieving a chartless, all-digital workflow. The training facility is part of PracticeWorks' world-class education program that includes more than 60 full-time trainers and course offerings for dentists, orthodontists, oral and maxillofacial surgeons and PracticeWorks partners.

The operatory utilizes PracticeWorks' latest technology including KODAK Practice Management Software (PRACTICEWORKS, SOFTDENT, ORTHOTRAC and WINOMS CS Software) and KODAK Digital Imaging Systems. Featuring customizable workflow configurations to address specific practice/student requirements, the operatory will be used for employee and partner training as well as for hands-on customer education as part of its users' conferences—which attract thousands of dental professionals annually.

“In addition to serving as a great resource for customers and partners, our new operatory provides assurance that our employees have everything they need to acquire the latest knowledge in the field,” said Patrik Eriksson, President, PracticeWorks. “By understanding new technological developments and emerging best practices, our team is better able to support customers in their quest to achieve an all-digital workflow.”

Eliminating paper- and film-based systems enables practices to increase productivity and minimize environmental footprints—while delivering better patient care. Anchored by its new onsite operatory, PracticeWorks' training program teaches its students how to implement the latest electronic capabilities in order to achieve a paperless workflow including kiosk patient check-in, electronic remittance advice for claims, mobile practice management, electronic charting and more.
